

 Paro Taktsang
etherland

BT.L.M.TT.1

Paro Taktsang

Description

Made of four main temples and residential shelters, the Paro Taktsang monastery sits on the side of a cliff at 3,120 meters high and 900 meters off the ground. The monastery complex was built in 1692 near the cave where Guru Padmasambhava used to meditate and teach Buddhism. He is considered the Second Buddha and an enlightened being that introduced Buddhism in Bhutan.

Metadata

- City: Taktsang Trail
- Country: Bhutan
- GPS Coordinates: 27.4920° N, 89.3634° E
- Landmarks: Monuments
- Cadastral Number: BT.L.M.TT.1